About Lagos Food Bank Initiative

Lagos Food Bank Initiative (LFBI) is a non-profit, nutrition focused initiative committed to tackling hunger, reducing food waste and solving the problem of malnutrition through targeted programs that seek to improve the nutrition/food intake of pregnant women and their infants who are not able to get the required nutrient during pregnancy and breastfeeding of their babies. It is an NGO that fights hunger and malnutrition through grassroots efforts that collects food and cash donations for onward redistribution to the underserved in the society.

Lagos Food Bank was established in 2015 making it the first food bank in Nigeria. Since then, the organization has been able to reach over 2000000 people in 160 underserved communities across Lagos and other neighboring states, with the help of our network of over 14,000 volunteers. By utilizing the Food Bank, partner agencies can reduce their food costs and dedicate their funds to the programs which support the needy, the ill, the elderly, and children in our community.

OUR CORE VALUES

- Commitment: We are committed to solving hunger induced problems and providing related service.
- Compassion: We are motivated by compassion to reach out to the poor.
- Community: We collaborate with others who share our goals of a poverty free nation.
- Connection: We build a community of people that connect with the needs of the most vulnerable in the society.
- Contribution: We do whatever it takes to add value and contribute to deliver most services to our beneficiaries through shared goals and mutual support.

OUR VISION

To be the nation's leading domestic hunger relief organization that provides access to sufficient and nutritious food for all.

OUR MISSION

The mission is divided into two major parts:

- To act as a front line agency assisting those struggling with malnutrition and hunger across the country.
- To act as a food warehouse with branches in all the 20 local government in Lagos and to partner with other NGOs that assist people in need.

Description of a food bank and the types of agencies it serves

Food Bank	FOOD BANKS, as a general rule, provide a year-round source of food to nonprofit charities with feeding programs for the needy.
Food Pantry	A PANTRY provides bags or boxes of food to people to consume off premises. Pantries are encouraged to provide a 4 – 5-day supply of food for an individual or family, scaling the distribution to the size of the household.
On-Site Feeding Program	An ON-SITE FEEDING PROGRAM provides meals to people in need for consumption at the site where the food is prepared. On-site meal programs include shelters or residential facilities, soup kitchens, homeless shelters which provide meals to individuals who are not residents of the facility, senior nutrition sites, and residential treatment centers.
Supplemental Feeding	A SUPPLEMENTAL FEEDING SITE is an agency that serves snacks on-site versus a meal.
Mobile Pantry Program	MOBILE PANTRY PROGRAMS were designed to send a truckload of food for those in underserved communities and hard to reach areas, to be consumed off premises.
